Whether you're looking to share your skills, gain practical experience, enhance your career, build your contacts, or give back to the profession, SCACPA relies on you to help make a difference for South Carolina's accounting profession. When you choose to volunteer, you will get more from your membership by getting involved. Just tell us how and when you'd like to share you time and talents. Complete descriptions can be found online at www.scacpa.org/getinvolved.

Committee and Task Force Volunteer Opportunities

Accounting Careers & Academic Relations Task Force organizes programs to attract high school and college students into the accounting profession and serves as a link between accounting educators and practicing professionals.

Behavioral Standards Committee seeks to promote the ethical practice of the CPA profession through educational and enforcement activities and assists SCACPA members in finding appropriate answers to ethical questions. Working with the AICPA in a joint ethics enforcement program, committee members also monitor ethics complaints against SCACPA members.

Benefits Committee identifies the needs of current members and recommends ways to meet those needs through benefits and services.

Business Valuation and Forensic & Litigation Services Task Force raises awareness of the importance and value of business valuations, forensic and litigation services, and organizes education and networking programs about the importance and value of such services

Continuing Professional Education Committee selects seminars from national vendors, reviews policies with regard to delivering educational programming, monitors outside providers and develops strategies for maintaining the integrity and competitiveness of the association's educational programming.

Editorial Board Task Force offers guidance and suggestions pertaining to the editorial content and format of the association's publications. Members are encouraged to contribute original content or help secure contributors.

Financial Literacy Task Force develops financial awareness in South Carolina communities through programs and services.

Information Technology Committee develops and implements the association's internal technology plan to meet the needs of the members and staff. Members are asked to contribute technology articles for SCACPA publications.

Legislative & Advocacy Committee monitors legislation and regulation impacting the state's CPA profession and recommends strategic policy and action.

Membership Committee develops strategies to promote the profession, recruit and retain members, and recognize existing members.

Members In Business & Industry Task Force works to enhance the status of CPAs in various industries. The task force identifies the needs of members in industry and recommends educational programs, member benefits and networking opportunities. The group also hosts the annual business and industry conference.

Peer Review Committee meets two to four times a year to discuss peer review issues and concerns. Committee members must be qualified to conduct a peer review and must have achieved the level of partner or manager (or equivalent supervisory responsibilities) of a firm that received an unmodified report on its last peer review.

Personal Financial Planning Task Force sponsors the annual Personal Financial Planning conference for CPAs and professionals involved in financial planning.

Sustainability Task Force promotes sustainability programs in SCACPA and member firms and encourages members to be a resource to clients and communities regarding their sustainability efforts.

Taxation Committee serves as a technical resource for members, legislators, and regulators, and updates the Legislative Tax Guide annually. The group hosts the annual joint meeting with the State Department of Revenue and the Internal Revenue Service, and plans the tax track at the CPA Summit.

Technical Standards Committee acts as a technical resource for members and reviews exposure drafts on technical standards and recommends a response and makes recommendations to CPE committee on A&A Conference topics.

Young CPAs Leadership Cabinet increases membership and participation in the association by providing young CPAs with networking and leadership development opportunities; enhancing the value of association membership for young members; informing the association leadership about issues important to its young members; and developing future leaders of the association, the profession and the community.

Common Questions About Volunteering

WHY SHOULD I VOLUNTEER?

Your involvement gives you the opportunity to share your talents and expertise, exercise your leadership skills, grow your knowledge base and develop professional relationships that will last you a lifetime.

HOW OFTEN DO THE VARIOUS COMMITTEES MEET?

Most committees meet an average of two to six times per year. Most meetings are held via conference call and Web conference, with an in-person option at the SCACPA office in West Columbia.

HOW LONG IS MY COMMITMENT?

Committee and task force appointments are for a two-year term. You may choose to be reappointed at the end of your term.

DO I NEED SPECIFIC EXPERIENCE?

Some committees may require more professional experience than others.

HOW DO I SIGN UP?

Visit www.scacpa.org/getinvolved or contact Reva Brennan at rbrennan@scacpa.org, (803) 791-4181 ext. 103 or (888) 557-4814 [toll-free in South Carolina]. The deadline for committee/task force applications is September 30, annually. Interested members may observe a committee/task force meeting prior to joining. Contact Reva Brennan to learn more.
